

Lovely conditions albeit flukey wind at Frostbites

With plenty of water and bright sunshine six Norfolk Dinghies took to the water on Sunday. Race Officer Danny Tyrrell assisted by Bruce Thompson set an unusual course downstream from "C" line.

In the first race David Yapp sailing Dodman crewed by Julia Deary appeared to make the best start along the clubhouse bank but the rest of the fleet out in the river with more wind soon sailed past. David Mackley in Lucifer crewed by Olivia Archer rounded the two lower marks first and started the long run upstream against a weak tide. After 41 minutes Mackley finished first, followed a minute later by Sam Woodcock in Kelpie crewed by Sam Archer. Yapp came in third, 30 seconds behind Woodcock. On handicap Stephen Ellingham sailing solo in Willa was first, Yapp second and Mackley third.

In the second race Sam Archer took the helm of Kelpie and lead from the start winning after 36 minutes. Yapp was second and Olivia Archer now helming Lucifer third. On handicap Yapp took the win with Olivia Archer second and Sam Archer third.
